The GSF Centre in End of life Care

Our Core Purpose is to train and support frontline staff to enable a gold standard of care for people in the last years of life

The GSF Centre team has, for over fifteen years, helped generalist frontline staff care better for all people in the final years of life, enabling them to live well until they die. Many thousands of doctors, nurses and carers have received training, affecting the care of several million people over the years to ensure they are more likely to live well and die well in the place and the manner of their choosing.

The GSF Centre, led by its founder and National Clinical Lead Prof. Keri Thomas, provides nationally recognised training and accreditation programmes enabling transformational cultural change that leads to a 'gold standard' care for people nearing the end of life. This includes care for people with any life limiting condition (including frailty, multi-morbidities, dementia and other non cancer conditions), in any setting (home, care home, hospital and others) at any time in the last years of life.

GSF aspires to enable frontline health and social care providers to give the right person, the right care, in the right place, at the right time, every time.

GSF helps to improve -

- Quality of care experienced by people
- Coordination across boundaries
- Outcomes, enabling more to live well and die well, reducing inappropriate hospitalisation.

To achieve this, GSF provides -

- Training programmes in all settings
- Tools and resources to support change
- Measures of progress and attainment
- Support and coaching for local implementation

What is GSF?

GSF is a practical systematic, evidence based approach to optimizing care for all people nearing the end of life, given by generalist front-line care providers.

GSF is all about quality care— quality improvement with training, quality assurance with standards of care and quality recognition with accreditation.

GSF and National Policy.

The UK has again been voted top country in the world for End of Life care (Economist 2015) The GSF Centre both influences national policy developments, and helps put policy into practice, supporting practical grass-roots change in line with NICE Guidance, DH EOLC Strategy, NHSE Ambitions in End of Life Care Care Quality Commission (CQC), Skills for Care and others.

GSF and the regulator CQC

"GSF is a very important tool that I do believe, if people are doing the things that are in GSF, they will find that they come out very well on CQC inspections -" -Prof Sir Mike Richards, CQC Chief Inspector of Hospitals

"What is fantastic about the Gold Standards Framework, is that it is focusing care homes staff minds on how can they make that (end of life care) experience the best it possibly can be" -Andrea Sutcliffe, Chief Inspector Adult Social Care, CQC
